

years, and the first time that Carlisle has won.

Both teams made touchdowns, Carlisle's coming on a 55-yard run by Welch, while Brown's was made by Ashbaugh, after a blocked kick on the 30-yard line. Thorpe, whose kicking has been the feature of the football year, added six points to his record by two beautiful goals from the field for Carlisle.

All the scoring was done in the second period.

The Indians' play was marked by quick shifts, double passes, criss-cross runs and plunges, which seldom failed to gain.

Clemson Outclassed.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 30.—Clemson was outclassed at every stage of the game today and Georgia Techs won by a score of 21 to 0. Coles and Coole were the stars of the Tech team while Capt. Bissell, Coles and Webber performed the feature work of the visitors. Fumbling marred the play of both teams.

Davidson Lost to Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 30.—Within the last ten minutes of play this afternoon Alabama sent Vandergriff over Davidson's goal for two touchdowns and the game ended 16 to 6 in favor of Alabama. Vandergriff also crossed the Davidson goal in the first period, but missed goal. In the second quarter a forward pass failed and Williford got the ball for Davidson and registered their only touchdown. Boone kicked goal and the score stood 6 to 5 in Davidson's favor until the last few minutes of the fourth quarter.

Washington & Lee and Tulane Tie.

New Orleans, Nov. 30.—With six regulars out of their line-up because of the "one year rule," Washington and Lee played an uphill game with Tulane here today, the final score being a five to five tie. It was regarded as the fastest and best game of the season and was played before the largest crowd ever gathered at the stadium for a football contest. The weather was ideal.

Washington and Lee was more than equal to Tulane on the defensive after Walmsley had made the first touchdown and failed at goal in the beginning of the second quarter. Miller, the visitors' big left guard, tied the score in the third quarter, plowing eight yards through Tulane's line for a touchdown with six opponents hanging on to him. He barely missed a difficult angle going.

The last quarter developed open playing on both sides and punting was frequently resorted to. Malcolm, Miller, Miles and Rafferty varying the game with eight and ten yard rushes. The game ended with the ball on the visitors' 20-yard line in their possession.

Wrangling in Game.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 30.—In an unsatisfactory game of football here today the Citadel and the University of South Carolina eleven's struggled through for 15-minute quarters without scoring a point. The game was marred by almost incessant wrangling. At one time there was a free for all fight which had to be stopped by the police.

Bucknell and Ursinus Tie.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 30.—Bucknell and Ursinus College football teams struggled through 60 minutes of play here today to a tie, score 3 to 3.

SOUTHERN EDUCATORS

Great Congress in Session at Houston, Texas—Speakers

Houston, Texas, Nov. 30.—Education today is too far removed in methods and in curriculum from the needs of daily life and is engrossed in a blind pursuit of something elusive called culture, according to speakers at the first session of the Southern Educational Congress here today. The Congress will be in session three days. At the morning session addresses were delivered by M. A. Casady, of Lexington, Ky., president of the Association; Dr. John W. Abernethy, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., whose theme was "Southern Education;" Dr. H. I. Whitfield, Columbus, Miss., on "The Need of a New Conception for Rural Schools of the South," and by Dr. W. H. Elson, superintendent of the public schools of Cleveland, Ohio.

"The Education of the Southern Girl" was the general topic this evening. The speakers were Dr. B. D. Johnson, president of Winthrop, S. C., Normal and Industrial College; Dr. B. C. Hagerman, president of the Campbell-Hagerman College, Lexington, Ky.; Dr. R. L. Blanton, editor of the Virginia Journal of Education, Richmond, and Dr. Edgar O. Lovett, president of the Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

Tomorrow morning's session will be devoted to rural education and the betterment of rural conditions.

EXCURSION TO SOUTHPORT.

Quite a Number Made the Trip Yesterday—Roadbed.

The Thanksgiving excursion over the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad yesterday was quite a success from every standpoint, and a large number of people made the trip to the seaport city and spent a pleasant day there, or at intermediate points along the route. Aside from the crowd that went from Wilmington many others boarded the train at Winnabow, Town Creek, Bolivia and other stations along the line. After the arrival of the train at Southport and excursion was run from that city back up the line to Bolivia and many Southport people took their first ride over the railroad on this trip.

Since the first trip over the road on Thursday one week ago a force of men has been at work on the roadbed and a number of rough places have been smoothed out and improved. The roadbed is now in good shape all the way.

It was stated yesterday that a regular passenger schedule will be put in effect over the W. B. & S. in about ten days, probably by December 10th.

"Sunshine" Hawkes

The following editorial comment from the Richmond Virginian, in reference to Mr. A. W. Hawkes, who left here only a few days ago after lecturing for two weeks at Immanuel Presbyterian church, will be of interest to the noted humorist's many admirers here:

"The Wilmington Star announces that 'Sunshine' Hawkes will make an address in that city. It must be Mr. Hawkes whom we heard speak several times when we were at college. He then appeared to be a man of middle age. Well, his was a laughing philosophy and his hearers went away with lighter spirits and a brighter outlook. He has indeed earned the sobriquet 'Sunshine.' May he bear it for many years before the sunset comes."

Good roads are winning a prominent place in popularity with the farmers. Let us build good roads and place our country in the progressive class.—Perry, Fla. Herald.

Negro Charged With Larceny.

Robert Hennigen, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Leon George on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a sum of money to the amount of about $20 and a suit of clothes from a man on a shanty car at the railroad yards yesterday morning. The negro took the clothes to Mr. Charles Finkelstein's pawnshop, where they were recognized by their owner. Mr. Finkelstein gave the police a description of the negro and later, when he had been arrested, identified him as the man who had brought the clothes to his shop.

Mr. Flake Waived Examination.

Mr. John H. Flake, charged with an assault upon a female, Mrs. W. J. Barnes, waived examination before Justice Harris Wednesday afternoon and was sent over to the Recorder, where he will probably be tried within the next few days. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, against whom Mr. Flake brought a counter charge of assault, submitted to charges of simple assault and judgment was suspended on payment of the costs.

Be Sure That Your Oranges and Grapefruit Are Ripe

Oranges and grapefruit should be permitted to ripen upon the tree. When pulled green, they never have the juice and flavor of the tree-ripened fruit. They may be artificially "cured" to look as well as mature or artificially "cured" fruit. The Florida Citrus Exchange protects the consumer against unripe, immature or artificially "cured" fruit. Every box bearing the brand of the Exchange in big red letters, contains superior fruit that has been tree-ripened, thoroughly inspected, carefully packed and shipped promptly from the groves. Insist upon having fruit in boxes bearing the brand of the Florida Citrus Exchange—your dealer can supply you.

Fruit Shipped by the Florida Citrus Exchange Has Been Ripened on the Trees

Florida is the natural home of the orange and grapefruit, and nature knows more about raising perfect fruit than man. Where produced in other states, these fruits have been artificially propagated. The Florida oranges and grapefruit are juicy and sweet, spicy in flavor, and health-giving in all respects. Squeeze the juice from a Florida orange into a glass, and then squeeze the juice from another orange into a similar glass, and note the difference in bulk—and it is the juice you buy. The rind and pulp are thrown in—they are valueless as a food.

It is the most economical way—the fruit costs less—and you know you are getting only the best—the most perfectly ripened fruit. This kind of citrus fruit is health-giving, as well as pleasing to the palate. In every box of fruit shipped through the Florida Citrus Exchange there is a booklet telling how to serve oranges and grapefruit, giving many tried and dependable recipes. Each box also has a coupon good for half the retail price of tableware—in silver, cut-glass, etc. Booklet without the coupon mailed for four cents in stamps. THE TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY

Sensational Address by President Coom—Thanksgiving Sermon by Rev. John E. White—Other
News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 30.—President Charles L. Coon, of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, stirred a sensation tonight among the educational forces of the State with his annual address in which, as he expressed it, he undertook to "tell the rude truth" about the educational situation in this State.

"If we cannot endure honest criticism from within and without our profession, then we need to be born again and that speedily," he declared. The teachers and legislators of North Carolina were represented as having put on the State a multi-colored and unharmonious patchwork as an educational garment of diverse and discordant elements. Some of the most glaring patches were legislative or political appointments of county school boards who have power to select almost any sort of person for county superintendent and he undertakes to supervise something about which he scarcely knows the first principles and is totally unfit for. There are 200 different standards for entrance upon teaching. A teacher thought to be worthy of a monument in Durham may be declared unfit to teach in Asheville; teaching children may be considered a private business in this State but doctored pigs and cows and horses is not, declared President Coon. The State Department of Education rules that a teacher can be required to teach 67 children before State aid can be invoked in changing to a two-teacher school, and in over half the counties such conditions exist. There is no efficient method of making new teachers; average salaries now are worth no more to the teacher than ten years ago; conditions are a constant invitation for the best teachers to leave the profession.

President Coon ridiculed the farm life school movement, saying that the one county in the State that had undertaken it was the State aid scheme has now only 90 days school term, and the property of the proposed farm life school would be ridiculously near the value of the whole public school property of the county and its salary schedule half that of the county schools. "Shall we have blacksmith life high schools, and fisherman life high schools," more and more educational patches. The multiplication of small local tax districts without system as a glaring multitude of patches. He declared that it will take a Saul and a small revolution to re-make these educational failures into anything like a harmonious system whose parts do not work against each other.

The average pay of $192.40 per year for the public school teachers was ridiculed. The high school system, the township system and local tax district system tend to make a by-word and jest of that part of the State constitution that requires a uniform system of schools.

Mr. Coon outlined a constructive educational policy he advocated. The Teachers' Assembly should be made a delegated body from the smaller organizations of teachers. There should be a State Educational Commission of eight members appointed by the Governor on recommendation of the Teachers' Assembly that should control the licensing of all the public school teachers and control the courses of study, selecting of text books, licensing and supervision of teachers and be a continuous professional body. Townships for schools should be re-constructed to afford a seven-grade central school for each with subordinate elementary schools with minimum four-month terms and longer terms for the central schools; special tax districts should be gradually absorbed into a unified system of taxation, the amount of State aid to be dependent on local effort on the part of the townships.

"Thank God for the Little Children" was the theme of a brilliant Thanksgiving sermon today by Rev. John E. White, of Atlanta, before the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly in connection with the Thanksgiving service. "A Little Child Saal Lead" was the text. Running through the discourse was the thought that the real foundation of the Thanksgiving spirit and our hopes and aspirations as a people is in the children and the land upon the development of whom the teachers have such a vital influence. The school children of the city were out in large numbers for the service and a chorus of them participated in the music program, there being an audience of 5,000 people.

Despite the fact that the State press is devoting considerable space to politics, it loses no opportunity to put in effective links for good roads and other movements tending to the material advancement of Florida—Palatka Times-Herald.

If the temper of an auburn-haired woman is missing it's a safe bet that the color isn't natural.

PUNY LITTLE BOY.

"Now Picture of Health" His Father Says

The pale, wistful faces and thin spindling limbs of "delicate children" tell plainly enough the story of poorly nourished bodies.

We know just what ought to be done for such children. Here is a letter from Richard Rush, Columbus, Ind., saying, "I believe I am indebted to Vinol for the health of my little son. He had a severe attack of whooping cough and measles which affected his lungs and constitution."

"We tried several other remedies without any result, then commenced using Vinol and I take pleasure in saying that he is the picture of health now, due to the use of Vinol."

Sickly children need the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine healthy color. It is pleasant to take and we guarantee that the results will satisfy you money back if they do not. R. C. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

ROCKY MOUNT'S SLOGAN.

People of Railroad Town Worked Up. Check Flasher Arrested. (Special Star Correspondence.)
Rocky Mount, N. C., Nov. 30.—The recent meeting of the committee selected to choose a suitable slogan for Rocky Mount, which was held several nights ago, in which two of them were selected, has created perhaps the greatest sensation of any public affair in this city.

Twenty minutes after the two slogans had been made public the entire community began to kick on them, many communications from prominent citizens were sent to the press of the city asking that the whole affair be begun over on the grounds that out of the committee of 33 only seven attended.

Throughout yesterday there could be seen knots of men on every street corner discussing the subject, and in addition to the men, some of the ladies of the city were also kicking. That neither of the selected slogans will suit the people is very apparent, and it is very likely that the committee will hold another meeting on Saturday, December 9th, when the question will be settled. Whether they will use the same slogans to select from, or will call for others is not yet known, but it is probable that the same large list will be used at the Saturday meeting.

News reaches Manager Bland, of the Ricks Hotel, of the city late last night that Fred Heller, alias many other names, the young man who for the past several months has been working the hotels of North Carolina and Virginia with checks that were worthless had been roped in at Petersburg, Va., where he tried the same stunt. It is estimated that during his campaign he soaked the various hotel managers for approximately $3,000, this being divided between North Carolina and Virginia. Among the North Carolina hotels getting stuck were the Ricks, of this city, for $40, one at Wilson, for $50, one at Greensboro for a like amount, also at Raleigh, and several other cities.

The game was worked the same in every city, the young man, supposed to be an automobile accessory salesman, would come into the city and spend perhaps a day, being introduced by some traveling man, whom the manager knew well, and upon leaving he would persuade the manager to cash a check for a large amount, taking his board out. The checks were drawn on a Detroit bank, all of which were returned several days later. The North Carolina and Virginia police and detectives have been working on the case for some time, but not until Tuesday were they successful. It is not known where the young man will first be tried. He is being held by the Petersburg authorities.

Mr. Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, in an address before the Birmingham, Ala., Chamber of Commerce on Thursday night, took strong grounds against the initiative, referendum and recall. In these days when all sorts of remedies are being proposed for evils from which the people suffer, and when public men are all the while on the anxious seat fearful that they will miss the passing popular breeze, utterances of strong and patriotic men like Mr. Underwood are refreshing and steadying. It is too often the case that the politician is more concerned about retaining his office or in getting an office than he is about leading the people aright. He doesn't aim to find out what is for the public good, but what will best serve his personal purposes.—Savannah News.

The amount which Virginia spent for good roads last year, running as it does up into the millions of dollars, may seem a large sum, but it wasn't a drop in the bucket compared to what the commonwealth paid out for bad roads. It is the latter, not the former, that really cost.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

SAGE A HARMLESS REMEDY

Will Make Your Gray Hair Vanish Quickly—Try a Bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, a Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today, and see what it will do for you.

SAVANNAH WON'T ASK.

Will Consider Acceptance of Race if Overtures Are Made. Savannah, Ga., Nov. 30.—Mayor Geo. W. Tiedeman, who has been largely instrumental in securing all the big automobile races Savannah has had within the past five years, said to a representative of the Associated Press at the race course today that city had made its bid for its last big automobile race. No more will be asked for, he says.

The city has shown the automobile people what it can do in pulling off a big race and while the question of running another might be considered, if the overtures came from the Automobile Club authorities elsewhere, Savannah and the Savannah Automobile Club are satisfied with the honors they have won already by pulling off the most successful races on the continent.

LOSS BY FIRE.

Gainesville, Ga., Suffers $200,000 Loss. Gainesville, Ga., Nov. 30.—A property loss estimated at $200,000 tonight resulted from a fire which started in the "Palmer" Hardware Company's store and spread to a half dozen other business structures in the same block. Calls for help were sent to Atlanta and Athens, but these were cancelled later when it was seen that the local department, with the aid of volunteers had the blaze under control.

B. H. Welch and John Hobbs, two volunteers, were seriously injured by the explosion of cartridges in the hardware store.

The Southern States have spent $44,000,000 for good roads during the past year. This is one of the most convincing signs of progress in the South.—Chicago Record-Herald.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which stem from it from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach.
Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

Given Away.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Friday, December 1, 1911.

Well, Colonel Roosevelt declares he's no candidate. Probably the Colonel does not propose to let any cyclone catch him off his base.

Charlotte's aldermen seem to be the last relics of the Queen City's village days. They ought to wake up and catch up with the Charlotte of today.

Wanted—One thousand new freight steamers to engage in traffic through the Panama Canal. If Americans won't build them, Congress will have to let exporters buy some ships from abroad.

Let the Democratic Congress give us some more Inland Waterway construction. That portion which is finished is a splendid sample of what can be done to afford economic navigation inside the danger line.

Certain features of Col. Roosevelt's administration are coming back to harass and embarrass him. He is kept busy trying to defend himself or explain. He is kept too busy to think of wanting to be nominated again.

Probably, when we get that inter-ocean canal in operation it will strike us that we ought to have some merchant ships to go through it. Have we built it to give foreign ships a nearer cut to markets that ought to be ours?

Big Business wants the Congressional investigating committees called off.
The committees must be on a hot trail, or else nobody would be afraid of being caught up with. The innocent do not care how many people get on their trail.

The boys who are making from 150 to 200 bushels of corn on an acre of land are the farmers of the future.
They are the hope of North Carolina, and we should say that their achievements make the future prospects exceedingly bright for the Good Old North State.

The "Girl from Rector's" seems to be disturbing the dreams of some people in North Carolina. She is getting herself talked about and that is exactly what the "Girl from Rector's" wants in order to attract attention to her hobble skirt. The more that is said about her the more the people want to see what she looks like.

If Wilmington is looking for more than ordinary increase in her population, there is nothing that will bring that result quicker than manufacturing industries. If we are looking for the development of this country of splendid and unequalled agricultural resources, there is no surer way than to organize land companies and attract homeseekers to eastern North Carolina.

Regular Republicans are laughing the "insurgents" out of court, and a contemporary predicts that they won't stand for it, but that the progressives will join the Democrats. As a matter of fact, they may be like North Carolina Republicans who were flattered out by Tat's steam roller. They took it for the bandwagon, climbed on and refused to be put off in a desert where there were no pickings.

It is not fair to use the trip har-mor of a boiler factory for the purpose of knocking Greensboro. That injunction to suppress the noise of progress ought to wake Greensboro up to the fact that the bigger a city grows the greater will be the noise.
Greensboro is in need of a few suburban retreats into which to send people whose nerves are affected by real city builders. Greensboro is now engaged in a struggle to wear the country off, but she will come out of it all right.

RAILROAD EYES ON THE SOUTH

For several years The Star has been predicting that the Panama Canal would emphasize the advantages of the South Atlantic ports and magnify their opportunities, and, therefore, that the great railroad systems of the country would have their eyes on the commercial possibilities that lie in such ports as Wilmington-Southport, Charleston and Savannah. Recent railroad rumors are but the forerunners of great railway development in the South, not only in the way of building links but in the way of closing operating interests between north and south systems and east and west systems. Wilmington and Southport are splendidly advantaged so far as north and south transportation lines are concerned, but the height of our commercial ambition should be to secure western connections into the coal regions and into the grain and meat producing States of the West.

Naturally, Wilmington should be the port of entry for such cities as Memphis, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago, Minneapolis and other metropolitan points of the Middle West and the Northwest. That is our territory on account of the shorter distance from them to a port south of Hatteras and for traffic via the isthmian waterway. That an immense commerce is to be the logical result of the construction of the inter-ocean canal is a foregone conclusion, for that was the precise purpose for which the American republic has spent millions of dollars in that stupendous work.
It is for our South Atlantic ports to rely with confidence upon the great possibilities of the future and lose no time in taking advantage of the magnificent opportunities which lie ahead of us.

We are satisfied the railroad management of the country have taken note of these possibilities and opportunities, and that it accounts for the recent rumor that the great Pennsylvania Railroad system had acquired control of the Atlantic Coast Line.
Of course, that rumor has been defied, but we are confident there was "something in the wind" so shifting the commercial vane as to give plausibility for the rumor. The Atlantic Coast Line has not sold out, and doubtless never will, but that closer operating intimacy has been agreed upon between the two systems we are fully convinced. We have said that before, and so able a financial publication as the Wall Street Journal asserts as good as confirms it. Thus we see that great New York business paper, under date of November 28th, saying this:

"Official disclaimers do not suffice to dispose of the belief that the management of the Pennsylvania Railroad is anxious to bring about closer relations with the Atlantic Coast Line.
It happens curiously that farther south one goes the greater assurance he finds that the thing has been done and the closer the relationship described as accomplished. Thus, in Philadelphia the answer is that there is nothing in it. In Baltimore opinion is divided between 'improbable' and 'it is bound to come,' whereas in the Carolinas control of the Coast Line has been sold to the Pennsylvania and the news confirmed by quoting members of State railroad commissions as saying, 'we have been expecting that very thing for a long time.'"

All this is thin stuff, but there are many factors in the situation that lend support to a certain respectability.
The Pennsylvania sought an influence in the affairs of the New Haven and obtained a directorship, though the purchase of anything like control was out of the question. With its Connecting Railroad and bridge over Hell Gate completed, the New Haven Pennsylvania affiliation will occupy the dominant position in regard to traffic between New England and the middle Atlantic States. The two will be increasingly powerful in the coastwise traffic both by land and by water.

An interest in the Atlantic Coast Line would in many ways be a natural extension of this field. No other road, not even the Seaboard, has such a coastwise system as the Coast Line.
It not only parallels the coast, connecting up such important ports as Norfolk, Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Brunswick and Tampa, but owns and operates a network of feeders from the interior to the coast points and, by trackage and its control of the Louisville & Nashville, reaches the Gulf at Pensacola and New Orleans, shipping centers that are expected to feel the impetus of the Panama canal opening.

Through Michael Jenkins, of Baltimore, one of its directors, the Coast Line enjoys a warm commercial friendship with the Merchants & Miners Transportation Co., which operates a fleet of twenty-five or thirty steamers in the coastwise trade between Boston and Jacksonville. New Haven, by the way, owns the half of this steamship company's stock not owned by Mr. Jenkins and his associates.
If the opening of the Panama canal is to develop the business of the southeastern seaboard as much as most people suppose, it is apparent that the Pennsylvania, with its own lines deeply rooted in the manufacturing and coal mining center of the country, would be advantaged by extending the sphere of its influence directly southward, by land and water.

The Louisville & Nashville, establishing thereby a direct route from Chicago and the middle States to the Gulf.
It is difficult to believe that the Pennsylvania can look on with equanimity while other trunk line systems take such steps to guard themselves against possible unfavorable effects from the opening of the canal.

"None of these considerations prove that Pennsylvania has any intention of buying into Coast Line, but all of them bear on the growing importance of the southern through lines in relation to the other transportation systems of the country."

We have not the slightest doubt that the above view of the Wall Street Journal is the most plausible explanation of the rumored Pennsylvania-Coast Line deal. Just what the developments will be there has been no disclosure, but the fact that something of great importance is on foot is indicated by a very recent excursion of Pennsylvania Railroad officials into Atlantic Coast Line territory. The South Atlantic will some morning be waked up with something of a tremendous nature for its contemplation.

No one should fail to note the emphatically pointed and very accurate manner in which Wall Street's great financial paper has pointed out the exceedingly strong position of the Atlantic Coast Line among the South's railroad systems in connection with the South's commercial and developmental possibilities in connection with isthmian waterway prospects. It gives the Atlantic Coast Line a primacy which no other Southern system can successfully dispute.

CHARLOTTE ON THE MOVE

The live business men of Charlotte are on the move and have taken the right step to make the most out of Charlotte's logical adaptability and possibilities as a manufacturing centre.
Charlotte's most constructive industrial leaders and champions of progress held an interesting and earnest meeting in the assembly room of the Selwyn Hotel on Tuesday night, and launched a stronger movement for just such an industrial promotive scheme as The Star has been urging for the past three or four years. We were in hopes Wilmington would catch onto the plan and be the pioneer Southern city in that sure way to secure industries, but the Queen City has taken the lead and no doubt will carry out the plan to a successful conclusion. There is no reason why it should not do so, for the deep interest, enthusiasm, co-operation and capital so necessary to it seem to be enlisted in the proposition.

As a result of the meeting of Charlotte's city builders on Tuesday night, there will now be a strong committee of fifteen of Charlotte's leading business men to push to its conclusion the organization of the Greater Charlotte Investment Company. That concern will really be a get-factories, build factories and aid industries company, and it is proposed to organize it with an authorized capital stock of half a million dollars. The Charlotte Chronicle says the enlarged committee will begin at once the work of soliciting subscriptions to that $500,000 of stock, and that "judging from the interest and enthusiasm manifested at the meeting the stock will be easily subscribed."

Charlotte's plan is admirable and it surely will do the business for a city that has an unlimited supply of electrically transmitted power for manufacturing industries, whether they are great or small. The Greater Charlotte Investment Company will have authorized capital stock of $500,- 000, one-tenth of which is to be paid in annually, or a lesser proportion as may be called for. The money collected will be invested in industries that promise to be profitable, and which only need capital to give them a start. Thus, the money to be invested is not a contribution, but is to be put into industries which will return the stockholders a dividend while adding to the industrial importance of their city. The Investment Company's plan will be to take only one-third of the stock or less of any industry that proposes to locate in Charlotte. This means that Charlotte will supplement outside capital with its own for the establishment of any industry that has merit in it. After the merits of an industrial proposition have been thoroughly investigated, the Greater Charlotte Investment Company will be called upon to approve or disapprove the proposition to invest its share, and if it decides to invest, the company will have a board of ten directors to look after its interests in a general way in promoting enterprises. The company's ten directors will nominate the directors which are to represent the Greater directors representing the other interests connected with the industry.

It speaks well for the feasibility and practical working of the plan that it has been heartily endorsed by Charlotte's most successful business men, including Mr. D. A. Tompkins, who has been such a powerful factor in the industrial development of the piedmont region of the Carolinas.

LITTLE OLD NEW YORK.

The New York Tribune says: "New York woke up in 1840 and never went to sleep again." New York is also keeping the balance of us from going to sleep. It is making the world sit up and take notice, for no city on earth has witnessed such marvellous development and progress during the last 70 years.

The Tribune on Wednesday issued a magnificent special edition illustrating "Seventy Years of National Progress." A history of our national progress is a history of America's great metropolis, for they are inseparable, and in its effort to encompass that marvelous history within the space of a metropolitan daily of great proportions, the Tribune has achieved an immense success.

This great edition of the Tribune is so comprehensive and valuable, that its striking worth can only be even hinted at in limited space. It tells of the progress of nation building, city building, railroad building, industrial development, scientific achievements, inventive progress, and general development along all lines, all on a scale so tremendous as to overpower one's sense of comprehension and credibility.

Without attempting to convey even a slight idea of just what the Tribune has accomplished in its Wednesday edition, we shall say that it is tremendously enlightening, practically constituting an education on American growth and progress.

Mr. John Redenbaugh, of Burton, Kan., although he is only 75 years of age, has nine living children, 56 grandchildren and 28 great grandchildren—93 in all. Including sons-in-law and daughters-in-law, the family consists of 119 members. The Kansas City Journal says it required for their Thanksgiving dinner 15 turkeys, 60 pounds of oyster dressing, 32 pounds of sweet potatoes, 40 bunches of celery, eight bushels of Irish potatoes, 50 quarts of gravy, 40 pounds of salad, 30 mince pies, and 30 pumpkin pies. A family like that is in a position to breed a famine.

Charlotte has big business on its hands this week in organizing a $500,- 000 company with a view to inviting industries, encouraging industries, building factories, and aiding manufacturing enterprises by both stock taking and loans. Crowded into consideration with that great plan, are conferences with Mr. J. M. Barr, of Norfolk, and Col. E. C. Duncan, of Raleigh, representing the Norfolk Southern Railroad system, which proposes to enter its line into Charlotte.
The Norfolk Southern people are there to talk business with the Queen City.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Requiring the corporations to take out licenses to do business would be nothing new. Some of us had been thinking that they already had licenses from the Federal government.
—Durham Herald.

Farmer Richard Walters, of Alton, Mo., is probably the only man in the country who will be able to pump cider from his system this winter. He couldn't conveniently get barrels, so he emptied his cistern of water and filled it with cider. There are reasons for thinking the Walters pump will be worked harder this season than it ever was before. —Savannah News.

"The Girl from Rector's" found last night that the people of Raleigh do not care to be imposed upon. Only two ladies and not many men were present. It is taking a long time but may be theatre managers will learn some time that sorry shows, whether indecent or only dull and poorly played, are not wanted by the public. They can fool the public sometimes, of course, but every time they do they decrease the already small confidence in the theatres and lose more financially in the long run than they gain in immediate profits by giving less than value received. —Raleigh Times.

That chivalry at last is dead and not merely playing possum is shown conclusively in the decision of the Supreme Court of North Dakota, to the effect that a husband sued for divorce is entitled to alimony from his wife when she is able to provide it, and "when she has not been deserted or abandoned by the husband, and he, because of age and infirmities, is unable to gain his own livelihood." This is a mistaken view of the cause of equal rights for women. In demanding the right to vote the women never asked for kind of equality. They asked for equal rights. They did not go further and ask to be made the stronger sex, with the obligation to support their husbands. —Washington Post.

Senator Lodge made a great speech last night. There will, of course, be differences of opinion, just as there have always been as to the proper interpretation of the constitution or as to its stability. Mr. Lodge, however, is not in any sense, a pleasing speaker. His voice is poor and has no carrying power and even those close to him sometimes had difficulty in hearing him. His speech showed the work of the scholar and every line was indicative of thorough preparation. All told, it was a masterly defense of the work of the fathers, the constitution. His scoring of some of the so-called new theories, initiatives, referendum and recall, was merciless, and as he made some of his points against these things there was hand-clapping, about the only times he was interrupted by any demonstration. —Raleigh Times.

Mr. W. D. Barfield, of Ten Mile, was in town on Friday and brought to Robesonian office three "Norton yam" potatoes that weigh about three pounds each, and he says that he has plenty more at home like 'em. He says that he thinks, generally speaking, a good crop of potatoes has been made in the Ten Mile section. He

Ten Mile, made over 200 bushels on an acre. It has not been many days since Fuller Lockyear, Indian, who lives on route two from Lumberton, brought to town a "yam" potato that weighed eight pounds. So potatoes, this year, must be growing large and plentiful. SASAKWA

LADY HELPED

After Losing Heart She Trigs Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, and is Now All Right.

Sasakwa, Okla.—"I am almost unable to describe my experience," says Mrs. Beckey Barrett, of this place. "I suffered so for over two years with womanly troubles, and had such pains that I was unable to stand on my feet. My husband called in five different doctors, but they could not help me. They gave me up unless I would be operated on."

I took different medicines, but found no relief, and I got out of heart. At last I commenced to use Cardui, and I am glad to say I am very much better. I have taken five bottles of Cardui, and I can now do my work all right—all my housework—and can walk two miles at a time, easily."

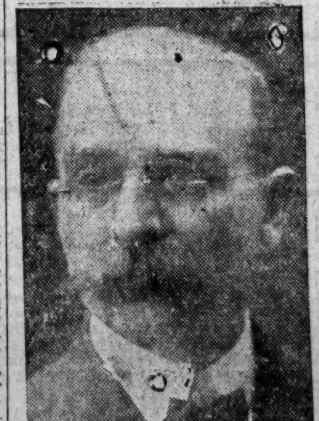

I feel like a new woman. I will always recommend Cardui to all sick and suffering women, for I know that Cardui saved my life."

The best way to cure woman troubles is to help nature by taking Cardui.

Cardui is a woman's tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients, that act especially on the womanly constitution and help to build up health and strength.

In successful use for more than fifty years. Try it.

There were a number of golfers playing. The tournament began on the arrival of the 10 o'clock car and continued for a better part of the day. An oyster roast and luncheon was served at the club house.

THE MUTUAL BENEFIT.

This Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Newark, N. J., and represented in this city by Mr. A. S. Holden, was, as usual, the first to pay its policy on the life of Dr. Wm. J. H. Bellamy. This good, old mutual company has never written a "contingent policy" and has never been forced by law to change its methods of doing business. It is the Natural Company for ALL who accept the true ideal of life insurance.

..Theatrical..

In the opinion of a great many theatre-goers "The Thief", as presented at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon and night, is one of the strongest dramas to appear here this season. The cast was excellent, each one executing his or her part in a manner that left nothing to be desired. The most difficult role, that of Marise, the wife, was handled by Miss Edythe Ketchum; that of Richard, the husband, by Frank J. Harvey; Raymond, father of the son whom he thought dishonored, by Robert Bennett; Isabella, by Miss Gertrude Allen, and Fernand, the son, by Harold Selman. These were the principal characters and each was excellent. There were a number of people here from out of town at both the afternoon and night performances. The attendance in the afternoon was a fairly large matinee house for Wilmington, while the house at night was not as large as was expected.

Thanksgiving at The Bijou The biggest holiday in the history of The Bijou. That was the record smasher of yesterday at this popular and attractive place, and it certainly was joy-riding some. There was a big bill and a most festive spirit in the very atmosphere and giant sized audiences packed the theatre and revelled in delight. It was mutual thankfulness on the part of amusement lovers and The Bijou management. Yet, while yesterday's bill was a big holiday affair, today's offering at The Bijou is going to be just as gala. It is going to be a hummer, and amusement-lovers, desirous of seeing the best and taking advantage of a rare opportunity, should not miss today's feast of music and photo-plays. There will be dainties served in both lines, and the most delicious, too. A great Biograph film is on today in "Sunshine Through the Dark," and it tells a beautiful tale of a little housemaid who slaves and slaves and finally yields to the temptations of theft, but she repents and all ends happily. Melle's masterpiece in the way of ingenious film creation is also among today's good things. It is "Mexican as It Is Spoken," and it is a rouser for big laughs. Among the other films is the latest war picture. It is a thriller of the war between the States. It is an old theme treated in new manner, and will stir the heart.

At The Grand The Grand Theatre was crowded from mids the doors opened until the close last night and the merry Thanksgiving crowds went away delighted with the theatre and with the fine offerings as the special bill for the day. The house was cozy and comfortable and many spent a pleasant Thanksgiving, eschewing the cold and disagreeable atmosphere of the outside. The Grand will have another great bill today, headed by the Pathe Weekly epitome of current happenings. Then there will be a Pathe of the "Lost Necklace," a stirring drama while Mr. Morgan will sing, "Dreams, Just Dreams." The Pathe Weekly shows the unveiling of the statue of General Morgan, the famous Confederate leader. The Duke of Connaught, the new Governor General of Canada, arrives and drives to the Parliament building. The corner-stone of the Masonic Temple is laid with impressive ceremony in Washington, D. C. The trowel used being the one Washington used to lay the corner-stone of the United States Capitol. The Aviation week in Johannisthal, Germany, brings out some strange air craft. A terrible explosion in the Brownville section of Brooklyn, N. Y., wrecks a tenement killing one and injuring several more. The King and Queen visit the city of Ostersund, Sweden. President Taft breaks ground for the Panama Pacific International Exposition in 1915 in San Francisco. Former Governor General Lord Grey, of Canada, and his family, leave for England. In New York city Mayor Gaynor makes the principal address at the unveiling of the William Cullen Bryant statue. The new army dirigible "Adjutant Reau" makes its official trial flight near Paris, France. At New Port, R. I., Colonel Coffin, commanding officer of the District of Narragansett Bay, holds the annual coast artillery target practice at Fort Adams, and Fort Wetherell, showing the firing of the 12-inch Barbette mounted guns, the 6-inch disappearing guns, a 10-inch disappearing gun, the strange 12-inch mortars and the 3-inch rapid fire guns.

Cottolene

Let the children eat their fill of doughnuts—if made from Cottolene. There's no stomach-ache or indigestion in Cottolene doughnuts, because Cottolene is a vegetable oil product, pure and healthful as olive oil. It makes food rich, without making it indigestible. It makes food palatable without the greasiness of lard-soaked food. It is more economical than butter or lard because one-third less is required.

From the standpoints of health and economy, Cottolene is unquestionably the leading cooking fat on the market.

Long Distance Walker Includes This City in His Tour.
Mr. Aaron P. Wirt, of Lebanon, Pa., formerly a newspaper man, who is walking through several Southern States, not to win a wager or to establish a record for long distance walking, but because he likes it and in order to see the country, arrived in the city Wednesday, coming here from the western part of the State, where he spent most of the Summer. He makes observations as he goes along and expects to use some of these in a book he proposes to write. Wednesday night he was entertained by Mr. Geo. W. Davis, janitor of the Carolina Yacht Club, at Wrightsville Beach, and today he will go to Southport on the steamer Wilmington as a guest of Capt. J. W. Harper, the genial and generous owner of the boat. Mr. Wirt is very much interested in historical spots and that is one reason why he desires to make the trip down the river. He saw Mr. James Sprunt, British vice consul, who told him that he would let him have a copy of his book on the lower Cape Fear section.

BENT THE GUN BARRELS

Blow Over Negro's Head Spoiled the Shooting Iron
Joseph Pinkney, colored, was arrested yesterday by Hall Officer J. H. Davis on charges of the larceny of a gun from Mr. C. H. Turley and an assault with a deadly weapon upon the same gentleman. He was lodged in the city prison and will probably be given trial before the recorder this morning.

Mr. Turley and several companions were down on the water front yesterday preparing to go on a Thanksgiving hunt and while getting the boat ready for sailing Mr. Turley had left his gun lying on the edge of the wharf. The negro approached and evidently liking the look of the weapon he took it to himself and appropriated it, making his way out at a good rate of speed. However, the white owner spied the fleeing negro and being somewhat of a sprinter he overtook the man and snatched the gun away from him. The negro, made bold and peevish by several Thanksgiving drinks, or the lack of them, deponent sayeth not, awaited until Mr. Turley had turned his back and then picking up a rock smote the white man on the back of the head with it. Mr. Turley, of course, resented such treatment and he gave chase again and overtaking the negro, he smote him a lusty crack over his kinky dome with the barrel of the gun. That there was considerable force behind that blow is attested to by the fact that the barrel of the gun was bent almost hopelessly beyond repair. Pinkney was considerably shaken up by the blow but fear lent him wings and he broke himself off with a spout that made his previous efforts look tame. Mr. Turley notified the police of the incident and the arrest followed.

MASTER MASON'S DEGREE.
Will be Conferred by St. John's Lodge This Evening.
St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., will confer the sublime degree of Master Mason on several candidates this afternoon and evening, beginning with the first section at 5 o'clock, stopping for supper at 6:30 o'clock, and reconvening at 7:30 o'clock for the second section. Mr. A. S. Holden, secretary of the lodge, has the following to say of the degree: "This is the last and highest degree of Ancient Craft Masonry and is emblematic of old age. The time for tolling is now over—the opportunity to learn has passed away—the spiritual temple that we have all been striving to erect in our hearts, is now nearly completed, and the weary workman awaits only the word of the Grand Master of the Universe, to call him from the labors of earth to the eternal refreshments of heaven; hence, this is, by far, the most solemn and sacred of the degrees of Masonry; and it has in consequence of the profound truths which it inculcates, been distinguished by the craft as the sublime degree. Masonry removes the dark shroud, draws aside the sable curtains of the tomb, bids joy and hope rouse up to cheer and sustain the departing spirit. It points beyond the tomb, and bids us throw an eye of faith and confidence on the opening scenes of eternity. Thus we reflect upon the solemn thought of death, which without revelation would be dark and gloomy indeed, but the Mason's hope is suddenly revived by the evergreen and ever-living sprig of faith in the merits of the Lion of the tribe of Judah, and we are reminded of that immortal part of man which survives the tomb, and which bears the nearest approach to that supreme intelligence which pervades all nature and which can never, never die."

JUNIOR ORDER OFFICERS.

Gillikin, at Goldsboro, his appointment as District Deputy State Councillor for New Hanover, Pender, Brunswick, Columbus and Onslow counties. His duties will be to visit all the Councils, strive to strengthen the weaker ones and to organize new ones where possible, as well as to assist the advancement of the order in every way possible. Mr. Wood is an enthusiastic Junior Order man and is well and favorably known in lodge circles all over the State. He is eminently fitted for his new office by his long experience and his natural qualifications and he will make the order a valuable man. His efforts will doubtless be material factors in advancing the interests of the Junior Order in his district. His many friends will heartily congratulate him on his appointment.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Yesterday a Busier Day Than Usual at the Port.
Yesterday along the Wilmington wharf front was a busier day than there has been for some time. There were three arrivals and two clearances.

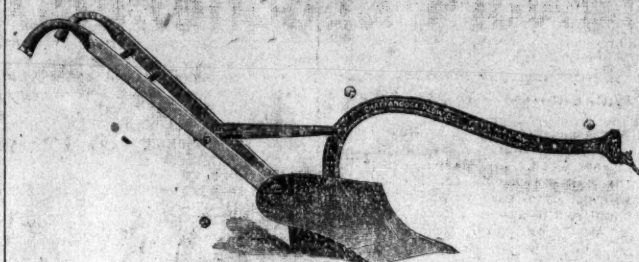

Exports for the day were 12,482 bales of cotton for foreign and 185,000 feet of lumber for coastwise ports. Imports, cargo of fertilizer material. The steamer Bluewood, which arrived at Southport Wednesday, came up and is now in port for a cargo of gum logs. British steamer Bankdale came in to port on account of a leak in the main feed pipe and will repair here. The steamer is on its way from Savannah to Bremen.
Anyway, there's nothing in the inter-State commerce regulations against free passes on the Salt River line.

WICKERSHAM TO ASSOCIATION.

Addresses Y. M. C. A. at New York—Answers Questions.

New York, Nov. 29.—A voice from the balcony at the conclusion of an address by Attorney General Wickersham to the audience of the Westside Y. M. C. A. tonight called out "Will the Sherman law be amended or repealed?"

The attorney general paused. "I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet."

Laughter and applause greeted the declaration.

Another voice sang out: "Do you think that amending or abolishing the 'holding company' would relieve the trust situation?"

"In my opinion," said Mr. Wickersham, "the holding company system is the greatest enemy to the destruction of monopoly ever devised by the wit of man."

Another voice: "Does the attorney general think that competition will be restored?"

"Yes."

"Do you think the same conditions will exist under those conditions as are noticeable today?"

"I hope not. That will depend on the vigilance of our friends."

These quotations fairly outline a questioning bee which followed an extemporaneous address by the attorney general at the inauguration of the finance forum of the Westside Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Wickersham spoke in simple terms of the problems which confront the government and said that the one most vital today has become simply this—"Shall the government have power over all or shall a group less than all have power over all?" In conclusion he said:

"One of the problems that confronts us today is the preserving of as much individual liberty as is consistent with our needs. I am a firm believer in the value of a form of government and the necessity of having that government strong enough to demand the respect of the people. I am also a firm believer in the integrity and capacity of the American citizen. The people are not, however, competent to adopt proper measures of government by direct legislation. We cannot have proper State legislation unless the proper men are put into office and only when judges are withdrawn from the political interference can we attain that keystone of government mapped out by our forefathers. No indictment four against the people is so strong as the electing into office of men who are unworthy of carrying out their duties."

A highly interesting turn is given to the discussion of preparations for the use of the isthmian canal by the announcement of a recommendation in the forthcoming report of the Secretary of the Navy to the effect that the supply of the fleet of the canal shall be maintained by the government and that the vessels shall be adopted for use as naval auxiliaries in case of war. It is obvious that a number of colliers, refrigerators and freighters will be constantly needed for carrying supplies to the government engineers, laborers and others employed on the canal. This service might be left to private enterprise. But at present it is being done by the government with its own ships and Mr. Meyer's proposal is that the government shall continue the present system, building for the purpose a fleet of vessels designed for possible use as naval auxiliaries. This proposal has much to commend it, not the least part being the resting freedom of the canal from strikes. A shipping strike on private lines might cause a disastrous shortage of essential supplies, especially of coal, at the isthmus; but it could hardly occur on a government line, and if it did the government would know how to deal with it in short order. The canal must certainly be secured as completely as possible against interruption of embarrasment of any kind, and the surest way for that to be done is through having the government itself not only operate and guard the canal, but also manage the transportation of essential supplies.—New York Tribune.

Bridges Time and Space

IT WAS A QUESTION of life or death and the victim's life hung by a slender thread. A difficult operation was necessary. To be successful the operation must be performed at once. The services of a specialist were required, but he was in a distant city.

The specialist was reached over the Long Distance Bell Telephone, the case described and the operation arranged for.

The sufferer's life was saved through the ability of the Universal Bell Telephone Service to bridge time and space.

By the way, have you a Bell Telephone?

U. S. SOLDIERS READY

For Immediate Dispatch to China for Protecting Foreigners

Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States is keeping in readiness at Manila an expeditionary force of from 500 to 2,500 soldiers for immediate dispatch to China for the purpose of protecting foreigners and to keep open the railway communication between Peking and the sea. This, it was declared by the State Department, is not to be considered an intervening force in favor of either the rebels or the imperialists but is merely the United States' part in complying, together with the other powers signatory to the Boxer protocol, with the provisions of that document.

The order for starting the troops awaits only the word from American Minister Calhoun at Peking. Mr. Calhoun was today instructed by the Department to convey to his diplomatic colleague now in the Chinese capital the information that the United States has this force ready, and that it will be sent immediately upon the notification that the council of foreign representatives at Peking thinks they are needed.

toward. In vain the spectators shouted and waited for Mulford, but the winner of the Vanderbilt cup race was out of the game. At the crucial moment with victory in the balance, Mulford's Lozier went out of commission with steering gear trouble and after a determined fight the plucky driver was forced to retire. DePalma jumped to third place with the elimination of Mulford and the hard fought contest for the grand prize trophy was ended after the next lap with the drivers in this position.

It is estimated that the grand prize race today was witnessed by the largest number of spectators that has ever attended a similar event in this city. The weather was extremely cold "for the Sunny South" and a cutting north wind rendered the air still more unpleasant. Despite the weather conditions racing enthusiasts began to assemble long before time for the cars to start.

As the day advanced the seating capacity of the stands was taxed to the utmost and hundreds were forced to stand.

In addition to the breaking of the world's record today and the achievement of Ralph Mulford, who in the Vanderbilt cup race beat the Santa Monica record of 74.6 average miles an hour for a 202-mile race by making an average of 74.9 for the distance, Eddie Hearne's official time for the first 205.68 miles of the grand prize race was 76.2 almost two minutes faster.

The swiftest lap of the seventeen miles course by Victor Hemery, driving a Benz. In the fifth lap he made the round in 12 minutes and 46 seconds, or more than 82 miles an hour. Bruce-Brown made the second fastest time for one lap by negotiating 17 miles in 12:47.

Caleb Bragg, another millionaire driver of a Fiat car, was a sturdy competitor in the battle for supremacy and finished fourth about 20 minutes behind the winner. He made numerous tire changes and was forced to change mechanisms.

In the early part of the race, first one driver and then another took the lead. Patchke, in a Mormon, led the race in the seventh and eighth laps but developed steering gear trouble which later resulted in his retirement. In the ninth lap Eddie Hearne went to the front and steadily maintained this position for nearly two hundred miles. In the twentieth lap Bruce-Brown, passed the Benz driver and took the lead and practically held it for the remainder of the race.

The course was kept clear for the speed kings by mounted and foot police aided by the State militia. No one was allowed on the track and except for the flying racers the course was absolutely free from traffic and obstruction.

In the throng which greeted the victor there was none more nappy than his mother. Mrs. R. A. Bruce-Brown, of New York, who was an anxious spectator of the wonderful race, was the first at his side when he stepped into his machine after the race was won. Not waiting for him to get out of the car she rushed to him and throwing both arms around his neck kissed him several times.

Eddie Hearne, the young Chicago millionaire, was keenly disappointed at losing his victory so early within his grasp, as this was his last race. Since Mr. Hearne entered for the grand prize there has been born to him a son and heir and he promised his wife that he would retire from the racing game after this contest and would never again take a risk of leaving his boy fatherless.

ENFORCE TEMPERANCE LAWS

Tennesseans Gather at Call of Governor Hooper

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 30.—More than 300 delegates gathered in Nashville today from all parts of Tennessee at the call of Governor Hooper to discuss the temperance laws and plan for their enforcement. The conference named a committee to wage a campaign for law enforcement.

The conference also decided that a committee of seven jurists shall be named which will investigate the powers of the Governor under the present laws and recommend to a future conference what laws will be necessary to make the better enforcement of the prohibition laws possible.

The delegates expressed the opinion that the prohibition laws generally are well enforced except in the big cities and insisted that no backward steps shall be taken in the temperance movement.

WOLGAST'S CONDITION

His Physicians Say He Is in Satisfactory Condition

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30.—Ad Wolgast, champion lightweight pugilist, who underwent an operation yesterday for appendicitis, was resting easily tonight and was pronounced by his physicians to be in a satisfactory condition.

Wolgast showed much interest in the outcome of the Welsh-Ritchie fight and smiled when told that Welsh had won the decision at the end of 20 rounds of grueling fighting. He made no comment.

Manager Tom Jones denied reports that Wolgast would be unfit to fight after he had recovered from the operation.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—The steamer Raleigh, bound from Port Colborne to Erie, Pa., with pulp wood, foundered off Port Albino today. The steamer carried a crew of 12 men, seven of whom are reported safe.

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach troubles is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madison, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at R. H. Bellamy.

McFARLAND THE VICTOR.

Chicagoan Knocks Out New Yorker in Twentieth Round.
San Francisco, Nov. 30.—Packer McFarland, the idol of the Chicago stock yards, won and lost today, when he got the decision over "Harlem Tommy" Murphy, at the end of twenty rounds of fighting before 6,000 critical spectators.

McFarland's victory over the New Yorker, whom 90 per cent. of those present expected him to knock out, was clean, and left little room for argument. But the rank and file of experts and fight-followers seemed unanimous that as an opponent of Champion Ad. Folgast the Chicagoan was an impossibility.

McFarland and his handlers said that he broke his right hand in the twelfth round. A cursory examination at the conclusion of the fight showed the hand to be much swollen, but of this the public was not aware until after it had left the arena.

McFarland, if he really broke his hand, fought a wonderful battle. Murphy, on the other hand, gave an exhibition of gameness and ability to come back rarely seen in a prize ring.

During the early rounds McFarland fairly smothered the little Harlem fighter with a dazzling variety of punches from which there was no escape. Once he sent Murphy flat on his back, but Tommy was up in a trice, apparently none the worse for wear. Time and again Murphy was all but fought out of the ring into the laps of the newspaper reporters and appeared to be in great distress; but the well defined punch was not forthcoming to give him his quietus.

McFarland opened cuts over Murphy's eyes and damaged his left ear, until it looked like an egg. In the face of this constant, rapid fire, the Easterner fought back every minute and made a better showing in the last two rounds than did McFarland.

For twelve rounds the fight was one-sided. Then McFarland began to slow down, and, seemingly, had tired. In several of the succeeding rounds he would spurt and pummel his antagonist unmercifully, but Murphy fought back with desperation and some of his body punches made deep inroads on McFarland's vitality.

After the fifteenth round Murphy took on new courage and in the final two rounds he electrified the spectators by taking the fight to McFarland, and it seemed as if the bell terminating the contest was as welcome to the Chicago man as it was to Murphy.

Both fighters showed the marks of the conflict, but they were of a superficial nature. McFarland outpointed his adversary to such an extent that the latter's gameness and ability to absorb punishment did little to make it a two-man affair. But the knockout punch was lacking and the reputed power of the McFarland right-cross proved a negligible quantity.

McFarland expects to start on Monday for Chicago, whence he will proceed to New York to keep an engagement with Matt Wells, the British champion.

DEFECTS IN SYSTEM.

Desertion of Country for City Is One of Results.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 30.—Defects in our public school system are responsible for the desertions of boys of the country for the city, for neglect of health, and for much of what he termed civic unrighteousness, according to H. L. Whitfield, president of the Mississippi Industrial Institute and College, who spoke at the convention of the Southern Educational Association here today. His subject was "The Need of a New Conception of a Common School for the South."

The church also came in for some criticism in his paper. While Mr. Whitfield declared he was not a pessimist he in effect called for a regeneration of methods of education in public schools as being needed to make amends for what he termed short-comings of present day methods. On the subject of prevalence of preventable diseases he said: "It is due to popular ignorance that these diseases continue year by year. But at what door can the responsibility for this be laid but at that of the public school?"

He gave public health bureaus credit for much good, but pointed to the fact that they dealt largely with adults and not with the child in his period of training. The same arraignment he made of the absence of proper physical training to insure a healthy mind in a healthy body. "There is expense in this country every year for worthless patent medicines more than three times as much money as is expended for public education. At what door should the responsibility be laid except at the public schools—the only agency that can reach and remove the cause."

Continuing Prof. Whitfield asked if the schools were making better citizens if high ideals prevail, are public officers actuated by highest motives, is the home life all that it should be, was not the contest between labor and capital injuring the South, why were the sons of farmers leaving their homes for urban communities in such large numbers, what causes crime, the matter of public morals—to all adverse answers he had but one remedy and declared "to my mind there can be but one answer. The schools have been too busy in doing the sacred work of handing abstract knowledge down along the lines of the changing generations to give time and effort to supplying the demands for those real and larger human needs. What we so much need is not merely the addition of social and industrial branches to the curriculum, but a radical reorganization of the whole school with reference to the future home, social, industrial and civic life of the pupils."

STREAMS FROZEN IN TEXAS.

One of the Coldest Thanksgiving Days in History of State.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 30.—Texas today enjoyed one of the coldest Thanksgiving days in the history of the weather bureau stations in the State. Snyder, Tex., reported four degrees above zero. Dallas registered 12 above. At Houston streams were reported frozen over. Galveston reported 34 and San Antonio 24 above with rising temperature.

Baltimore, Nov. 30.—Suffering from concussion of the brain received in football game here today, Robert K. Marmion, of Washington, D. C., son of Rear Admiral Robert A. Marmion, U. S. N., is in a serious condition at a hospital here.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS.

Address Before Southern Educational Association at Houston.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 30.—"We, of the South are lacking in only one thing—a citizenship whose masses have been adequately trained to live ethically and to utilize wisely and in fullest measure the natural advantages with which we have been blessed. In other words, our progress in educational achievement, except here and there, has not been such as to render possible the best of development, civic, social and economic, and industrial."

These words were spoken by John W. Abernethy today at the convention of the Southern Educational Association.

He called attention to the conditions in the South disclosed by the census of 1900 and said "We await with uneasiness the disclosures of 1910."

Recounting what he termed the perversion of the home by demoralizing influences of modern social standards, criticisms of and contests within the church, the disregard of law, increase of homicides and lynchings in the South, which extends, he said, not only to the black fiend, but to the better class of persons and those accused with minor crimes, Dr. Abernethy asserted:

"The trouble lies not with our form of government, but with the people who constitute the government; not with our judicial system, but with those who administer the system. The trouble is with our standard of duty which is a direct result of the attitude of our homes, our schools and our churches."

"Our educational policy must be all comprehensive in scope and extreme individualism in application. History and reason teach us that it is only through the process of education that a people can be advanced; that only through the cultivation of mind and heart can the masses be brought to a realization of that fact that violation of law, civil or moral, degrades all who participate, even all who witness or condone; that a resort to mob violence under any circumstances, is unjustifiable; that crime is not a preventable by a producer of crime; that lawlessness begets greater lawlessness; that hatred and revenge breed hatred and revenge. We be unto that government that makes provision for poor house, court house, jail, and at the same time neglects adequately to train its children for the proper course of citizenship."

The speaker advocated a proper education of the negro to solve the so-called race problem and advocated Federal aid for public schools.

DICTAPHONE USED.

State Secured Evidence by This Device Against McNamara.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30.—A bit of twisted wire, dangling from an upper window, today led to an investigation by counsel defending James B. McNamara, and the attorneys became convinced that the walls of the Los Angeles county jail have ears which have heard many confidential speeches.

The wire runs from a window in an unoccupied cell room on the third floor of the jail to another unoccupied room on the second floor.

Visitors to Otis E. McManigal, one of the State's main witnesses in the trial of McNamara, in the death of Charles J. Hanley, one of the 21 men killed in the explosion at the Los Angeles Times building, and McManigal in the upper room from which the wire dangles.

Perhaps a stenographer were in the lower room, but for all practical purposes, it is said, the wire leads to a hearing of persons who talked to McManigal while the grand jury was in session. This is the declaration of the defense which has no documentary evidence on the subject except a picture of the wire.

"I should not wonder a bit if it's true," said District Attorney Fredericks, when asked if a dictaphone had been used in this manner. "There should be nothing unusual about that. There's just a round disc attached to the window shade or against the pane so that no one would notice it, and the wire leading to a room below."

What this disc has meant to the State became manifest on inspection of the list of names of those who have visited Mrs. McManigal. It includes Mrs. McManigal, who, according to her husband, coerced him by threats of separation into signing a note, asking Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the defense, to come to see him. It is the theory of counsel for the defense that this interview was transcribed on the floor below. McManigal, a short time later, repudiated the request.

After McManigal's uncle, a railroad engineer, visited him, the uncle was taken before the grand jury. He emerged greatly astonished.

"He asked about things I said to Otis that I never spoke before in my life," he declared to his friends. "I said 'em in that room and nowhere else."

How much more evidence the State gathered in this manner, its counsel will not say.

forces that work in the dark, against the public welfare. It has been the direct representation of popular will supplanted by the dictates of political machines.

"Relief from present conditions can be—and will be—accorded by a Democratic administration and a Democratic Congress. These results can be secured by our party through the twin policies of a reasonable tariff and a settled programme of reciprocal trade agreements."

"But there is, in my judgment, a still more important step which remains for us to take."

"It is time for Congress, while upholding the principle that interstate and foreign trade shall be free from restraint to define, so far as practical, what specific acts will be deemed lawful and what unlawful, in order that the legitimate business of the country may know what the conditions are to which business must conform. It is time also, to reaffirm the principle that each State must do for itself all that human power can accomplish to utilize its constitutional powers."

"Failure of the State to act effectively within their common sphere serve as a justification for undue extension of national authority."

"We must now face a situation in which the fear of restraint by combinations of capital has given way to apprehension of greater restraint by the national government itself."

Football Player's Neck or Spine is Broken

Fredericksburg, Va., Nov. 30.—While playing right half back on the Newport News High School eleven against Fredericksburg College here today, Charles Benson was seriously injured, either his neck or his spine at the base of the brain being broken. "Before medical aid could be summoned he was partially paralyzed and was removed to Mary Washington Hospital. It was stated there tonight that the full extent of the injuries was unknown. A more crucial examination will be made tomorrow."

Richmond, Va., Nov. 30.—Henrietta Grossman, aided by members of her company, prevented a panic at the Academy of Music this afternoon where an audience of 1,200 people, mostly women, was thrown into an uproar by a cry of "fire." The department had been called out to subdue a blaze across the street from the theatre, when the noise of the engines caused some man in the gallery to lose his head. The audience was quieted after 100 women had rushed out.
